

WEEK 12

THURSDAY

NIGHT - BUF

@ DET

FOLLOW ON TWITTER/INSTAGRAM:
@AKAMAIFANTASY

FINAL SCORE: BUF 28 - DET 25

Devin Singletary led the team in rushing attempts (14), accounting for 82% of the RB attempts, and averaged over five yards per carry for the first time since the bye week. However, he still had fewer rushing yards than Josh Allen.

Josh Allen had a mediocre performance averaging six yards per attempt and only completing 57% of his passes. But he has surpassed 75 rushing yards in three of the past four games.

Stefon Diggs and Isaiah McKenzie each finished with double-digit targets, accounting for a combined 59% target share, and 68% of the team's receiving yards.

Gabriel Davis wasn't involved, finishing with under 40 receiving yards for the 3rd time in the past five games, despite averaging nearly seven targets per game.

BUF offensively was efficient in converting 3rd downs (7/12) and ran the ball well, averaging 5.7 yards per rush attempt. They struggled in the second half, failing to score on their first four drives.

1

Jamaal Williams leads the backfield with 18 rush attempts compared to five for D'andre Swift. Both players averaged less than four yards per carry, and Williams got 40% of his yards from one play.

2

Amon-Ra St. Brown dominated with over 50% of the team's receiving yards (season-high) and led the team in targets with his 3rd game in the past five with double-digit targets.

3

Jared Goff played well, averaging 6.5 yards per attempt while completing 62% of his passes. This was his highest passing yards in four games, and he has thrown five touchdowns in that span.

4

D'andre Swift finished second in targets (season-high) but failed to surpass 25 receiving yards. Only one player besides St. Brown had more than 25 receiving yards (Kalif Raymond - 35).

5

DET offensively converted on 3rd downs (6/15) and was successful on 100% of their 4th down attempts (3/3). In addition, they scored touchdowns on 3/4 of their redzone attempts.

WEEK 12

THURSDAY

NIGHT - NYG

@ DAL

FOLLOW ON TWITTER/INSTAGRAM:
@AKAMAIFANTASY

FINAL SCORE: NYG 20 - DAL 28

Saquon Barkley struggled running the ball, finishing with less than 40 rushing yards in back-to-back games averaging less than four yards per carry, and with his lowest rushing attempts this season (11).

NYG offensively struggled to convert 3rd downs (3/11) and failed to convert a 4th down attempt (0/2). They averaged 5.1 yards per play compared to 6.2 by DAL.

Daniel Jones averaged 6.5 yards per attempt and completing 60% of his passes. This was his second-highest passing yard total of the season.

Darius Slayton and Richie James led the team in targets (6), accounting for a 34% target share and 45% of the total receiving yards. Only Slayton surpassed 50 receiving yards despite getting 69% of his yards on one play.

At the beginning of the second half, the NYG defense gave up three straight drives ending in a touchdown and gave up 21 unanswered points without

1

Tony Pollard led the team in carries (18 vs. 16 for Ezekiel Elliot) despite Elliot averaging 5.8 yards per attempt compared to 3.3 for Pollard. Neither RB was a factor as a receiving threat.

2

Ceedee Lamb led the team in targets with a 36% target share and accounted for 40% of the team's receiving yards with his second 100-yard performance in the past three games (only two this season).

3

Dak Prescott has been consistent since returning from injury, with at least 260 passing yards and two touchdowns in three straight games. However, he has thrown two INT in two of the past three games.

4

Michael Gallup finished with a season-high in targets (8), receiving yards (63), and surpassed 50 receiving yards for the first time this season. Dalton Schultz finished 3rd in targets (4) with less than 40 receiving yards.

5

DAL's two turnovers in the first half were drives that DAL drove the ball into NYG territory before turning it over. Fortunately, the NYG offense could only score a FG off those turnovers.

WEEK 12 THURSDAY NIGHT - NE @ MIN

FOLLOW ON TWITTER/INSTAGRAM:
@AKAMAIFANTASY

FINAL SCORE: NE 26 - MIN 33

NE's rushing offense couldn't get going, failing to reach 50 rushing yards as a team and averaging less than four yards per carry. Rhamondre Stevenson led the team with 36 yards on seven attempts.

Rhamondre Stevenson led the team in targets with a 25% target share and finished with a season-high in receiving yards (76) and second on the team only behind Devante Parker (80).

Mac Jones finished with a career-high 382 passing yards and his 4th game with over 300+ passing yards. He averaged 9.8 yards per attempt completing 71% of his passes, and threw two TDs for the first time this season.

NE's offense scored on six of their first seven drives and failed to score on their next four drives. However, they could not score a TD out of three redzone attempts.

Devante Parker led the team in receiving yards despite getting 50% of it from one big play, with Nelson Agholor being the leading WR (8) and surpassing 25 yards for the first time since Week 4.

1

Dalvin Cook struggled to get anything on the ground, failing to reach two yards per carry for the first time this season. This was his second game with less than 50 rushing yards in the past four games.

2

Justin Jefferson and Adam Thielen dominated with a combined 56% target share and accounting for 66% of the team's receiving yards, with no other WR surpassing two targets or 25 receiving yards.

3

T.J. Hockenson finished with the lowest targets since joining MIN (6) despite scoring his first touchdown and failing to surpass 50 receiving yards in three straight games.

4

MIN offensively was able to convert 3rd downs (8/15) and was able to score touchdowns on more than half of their redzone attempts despite averaging 5.4 yards per play vs. NE's 7.4.

5

Kirk Cousins played well, averaging 8.1 yards per attempt, completing 81% of his passes, and throwing three touchdowns for the first time this season.