

DEF STREAM WEEK 2

09/14/2020

These four DEF are streamable options and currently are rostered in less than 60% of Yahoo leagues.

ARIZONA VS WAS

After upsetting last year's NFC champs, they'll have an easier challenge against Dwayne Haskins and the Washington offense. If they can keep the momentum, there will be opportunities for the defense to capitalize.

CLEVELAND VS CIN

After getting blown out by the Ravens, they're likely to be available on the wire. Facing a rookie QB who threw for 193 yards and zero touchdowns, there's a good chance that this defense will bounce back.

GREEN BAY VS DET

On paper, this defense should be able to produce against an offense who was missing WR Kenny Golladay last week. However, divisional match-ups are tough to predict, and the games had been close last season.

LOS ANGELES RAMS VS PHI

After getting decimated by WAS front seven, it's not crazy to think that the Rams will wreak havoc. If the Eagles offensive line remains injured next week, you could do worse than a group that held the #1 offense last season to 17 points.
