

WEEK 5 DEF STREAMERS

LOOKING FOR TEAMS ON LESS THAN 60% OF ROSTERS IN YAHOO

1

DENVER BRONCOS VS LV

This one is obvious, but this defense should be rostered in more leagues anyway, as they are currently in the top five. Over the past three games, they have held their opponents to less than 14 points and have generated multiple sacks in every game. They also forced a turnover in back-to-back games facing Geno Smith and Baker Mayfield, who have been solid this season. Now they face a struggling LV offense, likely without their top receiving threat. Easily one of the best streaming options available.

2

GREEN BAY PACKERS @ LAR

Despite giving up 31 points, this defense made some plays last week against one of the hottest teams right now and is currently one of the top defenses. They have generated a sack and forced three turnovers in every game this season while holding their opponents to 14 points or less twice so far. This happened when they started Malik Willis, which made it even more impressive. I expect regression for this defense, but facing an injured LAR offense makes this an easy decision to stream.

3

NEW ENGLAND PATRIOTS VS MIA

Despite how horrible the MIA offense has looked recently, I'm not confident because this NE defense has yet to impress me either. They have generated multiple sacks in three games this season, and the MIA offense has given up eight sacks in the past two games, which is interesting. Also, MIA has failed to reach 14 points in those games, which altogether makes NE a streaming candidate that should do well, but honestly, you're hoping for a top-12 performance with six to eight points.

4

SEATTLE SEAHAWKS VS NYG

I'm not too pleased that the DET offense just destroyed them, but this defense has been solid in taking advantage of good matchups like MIA the week before. They have generated multiple sacks in every game this season, and Daniel Jones has been sacked in every game so far. I'm concerned about Malik Nabers and how the NYG offense has improved recently, so I'm not looking to start them over the above options, but I can see them available in most leagues after such a bad performance,
