

WEEK 12 DEF STREAMERS

LOOKING FOR TEAMS ON LESS THAN 60% OF ROSTERS IN YAHOO

1

WASHINGTON COMMANDERS VS DAL

Obviously, this is targeting a good matchup against a DAL offense that has failed to surpass 14 points in its last two games with backup quarterback Cooper Rush. The WAS defense hasn't been impressive, but they have generated multiple sacks and forced a turnover in seven of its last eight games despite giving up more than 21 points in its previous three games. With that said, this defense becomes one of the best streaming options available despite the divisional rivalry.

2

TAMPA BAY BUCCANEERS @ NYG

This one is risky, even with the good matchup against an NYG offense that is turning to its backup quarterback coming off the bye week. Don't forget that this defense has given up over 30 points in four of its last six games. However, they have generated multiple sacks and forced a turnover in six of those games, and I'm anticipating this defense to continue this pattern and give up less than 30 points. Because of the high-risk, high-reward option, this is a last-resort option.

CHICAGO BEARS VS MIN

Coming off a mediocre performance last week, it doesn't get much easier as they face a MIN offense that has come back to earth in recent weeks. This defense has been okay, generating multiple sacks and forcing a turnover in four of the last seven games while holding their opponents to 20 points or less in six of those games. With that said, this is still a top-12 defense currently, and while the matchup isn't great, I would rather start a good defense in a bad matchup instead of vice versa.

LOS ANGELES RAMS VS PHI

I know it doesn't seem like it, but this defense has been impressive over the last few weeks and is currently hovering in the top-12 range for the season. Coming off their bye week, they have generated multiple sacks and forced multiple turnovers in four of their last five games while holding their opponents to less than 21 points in three of those games. While the matchup is tough against a PHI offense that can run the ball, I'm optimistic that this defense will finish in the top 15.
