

WAIVER ADDS WEEK 4

09/28/2020

These five players should be targeted in most 12 team leagues and are currently rostered in less than 40% of Yahoo leagues.

JEFF WILSON JR. - SF (11)

With Raheem Mostert and Tevin Coleman's injuries, there's a good chance that McKinnon will be the starter if both are out. Remember that last week? Now McKinnon is dealing with a rib injury. If you need an immediate RB streaming option, Wilson is one of the top targets.

CARLOS HYDE - SEA (6)

With a knee injury to Chris Carson at the end of the game last week, here's a one-week opportunity to stream him against a Dolphins defense that allowed James Robinson to carve them up. If Carson plays, Hyde should still see increased work.

GOLDEN TATE - NYG (11)

On a bad team without Sterling Shepard and Saquon Barkley, there are now plenty of targets available. With 5-8 targets per game over the past two weeks, the schedule gets a little easier, and he could be a sneaky start in PPR formats.

JUSTIN JEFFERSON - MIN (7)

Despite having him as one of my sleepers this year, he is not on my rosters. While this impressive Week 3 performance showed all the flashes that I saw on his college tape, I currently see a WR4 option with WR 3 upside until he does this again.

LAVISHKA SHENAULT JR. - JAX (7)

Instead of another Logan Thomas section (why is he still available), I'm going for a guy that you might see dropped on waivers. Despite the underwhelming performance, he has the versatile role of a runner/receiver and can end up as the #2 option behind Chark when healthy.
