

DEF STREAM WEEK 14

12/9/2020

These four DEF are streamable options and currently are rostered in less than 60% of Yahoo leagues.

SAN FRANCISCO 49ERS VS WAS

Facing WAS this week, I'm anticipating a better performance despite giving up 34 points to BUF yesterday. With Antonio Gibson dealing with a toe injury, that would further limit an offense struggling to make big plays if he misses the game. I'm not expecting double digits, but I believe there's a higher floor than some other options below.

TENNESSEE TITANS VS JAX

You would think this one would be an obvious matchup to exploit, but Glennon has been decent, and the TEN defense looked vulnerable recently. What makes me consider them is that the JAX defense has been subpar, and gamescript will force Glennon to throw the ball more, leading to turnovers. I'm not rushing to pick them up, but I'll place a bid if my other options are gone.

ARIZONA CARDINALS VS NYG

Disclaimer: This is only if Daniel Jones misses the game. Despite the win against SEA last week, the offense looked horrible, and I would expect that to continue if he misses another game. If Jones is healthy, I would suggest pivoting to the CAR defense. Facing a turnover-prone offense with Drew Lock and coming off the bye week after two strong games look promising.

DALLAS COWBOYS @ CIN

Considered one of the worse defenses, how are they recommended? It's the matchup. Facing CIN, they are going to have opportunities to create turnovers and pressure a struggling Brandon Allen. I'm all for the revenge game narrative with Dalton on the other side, and I'm betting on this being one of their better games overall.
