

DEF STREAM WEEK 17

12/29/2020

These three DEF are streamable options and currently are rostered in around 60% of Yahoo leagues.

PHILADELPHIA EAGLES VS WAS

Despite a tough performance last week, I'm looking for them to bounce back against an injured WAS offense. Besides last week, they have been a decent start averaging seven points over the past three weeks against some good offenses (GB, NO, AZ). If I don't have a strong matchup, I would consider pivoting to this team but don't overthink it.

GREEN BAY PACKERS @ CHI

Facing CHI, they are a streamable option against a subpar offense that has looked good in moments. Scoring more than six points in four of the last five games, they have been a decent floor option. I wouldn't expect double-digit points even in this matchup, but there's some upside as they did in their previous matchup.

SEATTLE SEAHAWKS @ SF

Over the past month, this defense has been a streamable option holding teams to under 20 points and a turnover in each of the last five games. Facing an injured SF offense, I'm optimistic this trend will continue and consider them if I missed out on the other options.
