

WEEK 14 DEF STREAMERS

LOOKING FOR TEAMS ON LESS THAN 60% OF ROSTERS IN YAHOO

MIAMI DOLPHINS VS NYJ

This is a tough one. Although this defense has been playing well recently, I'm not convinced that it is a top-12 defense either. Over the last four games, they have held their opponents to less than 20 points, generated multiple sacks, and forced a turnover in three of those. Despite the rough performance last week, I believe this defense will bounce back against a talented NYJ offense, but it hasn't been good enough to deter me from streaming this defense.

NEW ORLEANS SAINTS @ NYG

I'll be honest. This is purely a play on the matchup against the struggling NYG offense, which hasn't surpassed 21 points in its last three games. This defense hasn't been good recently, as it hasn't forced a turnover in back-to-back games, but it has been generating multiple sacks and holding its opponents to less than 21 in two of its last three games. Because of this, I'm strangely optimistic that this defense will be one of those top 15 streaming options with some upside.

3

ARIZONA CARDINALS VS SEA

Over the past few weeks, this ARI defense has been a good streaming option. They have generated at least three sacks and forced a turnover in three straight games. During that span, they have also held their opponents to under 14 points in two of those games. Also, SEA was one of those two games and they are facing them again this week. While I don't assume that they will repeat their strong performance, this is a top-12 streaming option that I prefer over some of the below options.

LOS ANGELES CHARGERS @ KC

Coming off one of their best performances, this defense has flashed, but they haven't been consistent on a weekly basis. They have held their opponents to less than 20 points in six of their last eight games but have also given up over 24 points in two of their last three. They also forced a turnover in one of their last four games. While the KC offense hasn't been great, they have been good enough. However, I believe this defense will give us a top-15 performance for some reason.
