

WEEK 5 QB STREAMERS

LOOKING FOR PLAYERS ON LESS THAN 55% OF ROSTERS IN YAHOO

1

MATT RYAN- (ATL) - VS NYJ

Despite the team struggling offensively, he's been the focal point of the offense finishing with over 240 yards and two TDs in three consecutive games. He faces a beatable NYJ defense in London and I think he will continue his streak of solid production as the offense will rely on him from beginning to end. There's definitely some risk and I wouldn't say he's the clear favorite from this group.

2

DANIEL JONES - (NYG) - @ DAL

Coming off his best game of the season, the offense is showing flashes despite the injuries. Facing a divisional rival with an improved defense concerns me even if the Shepard & Slayton are healthy. But, the rushing ability and growing chemistry with Golladay give me hope that he will still be worth a spot start in superflex leagues as a boom or bust option.

SAM DARNOLD - (CAR) - VS PHI

With five rushing TDs in four games, he has been a surprising streaming option over the past month and is finally getting some recognition. He showed that the offense will survive without CMC and facing a solid PHI defense isn't what I'm looking for, but I believe there's a higher floor available compared to the other guys on this list. I'm expecting him to not score another rushing TD, but he'll still provide top 15 value.

4

TREVOR LAWRENCE - (JAX) - VS TEN

He's someone whom I would consider a last resort. The only reason he made this list is because TEN doesn't have a good defense, and he will have opportunities to score. I'm personally hoping that I can grab one of the above options instead, but he has shown flashes of his potential and could get you enough points in your superflex leagues not to cost you a win.
