

DEF STREAM WEEK 11

11/17/2020

These four DEF are streamable options and currently are rostered in less than 60% of Yahoo leagues.

LOS ANGELES CHARGERS VS NYJ

The Jets are playing better recently, but I'm still targeting them with any competent defense because you don't want to miss out on a possible pick-six or a handful of sacks. Bosa has missed the past couple of games, and if he returns, you could be seeing a double-digit performance with Joe Flacco likely to start this week.

MIAMI DOLPHINS @ DEN

I mentioned this team being a long term investment last week against LAC. With an okay performance, it's time for us to cash in with a matchup against DEN this week. With Lock battling a rib injury, this only solidifies my confidence in this team, and I wished I picked them up in every league that I could've.

MINNESOTA VIKINGS VS DAL

Looking better over the past couple of weeks against CHI and DET, I'm starting to become cautiously optimistic about this team as a streaming option. It also helps that they're facing DAL, and there should be opportunities for turnovers throughout this game. This isn't my first option but still a solid consolation prize considering the upside.

WASHINGTON FOOTBALL TEAM VS CIN

This one I'm not too confident in, but if the other three are gone, what can you do? Facing CIN this week, I like the matchup between their defensive line against the Bengals offensive line. With Mixon questionable, this puts me a little at ease about starting them if needed. Also next week against DAL helps stomach the pain if this week backfires.
