

WEEK 10 DEF STREAMERS

LOOKING FOR TEAMS ON LESS THAN 60% OF ROSTERS IN YAHOO

1 SEATTLE SEAHAWKS VS WAS

Despite getting blown out last week, this defense has been impressive otherwise, holding their previous four opponents to 20 points or less while generating at least three sacks. They also forced a turnover in four of their last five games and are facing a WAS offense that's bottom-ten in turnovers. They also face a LAR offense the following week that may be without Stafford, making them worthy of streaming in two weeks. I would consider this a top-12 defense this week with a top-five upside if they can force multiple turnovers.

2 CINCINNATI BENGALS VS HOU

Despite the tough matchup last week, they still performed well, forcing multiple turnovers and holding their opponents to under 20 points against a good BUF offense. They also forced multiple turnovers in four consecutive games against some great offenses (SF & BUF). With the CIN offense humming, I believe they will continue to be impressive against a solid HOU offense, but don't forget that this offense failed to surpass 20 points in their previous three games. This defense is a high-floor top-12 option.

3 TAMPA BAY BUCCANEERS VS TEN

While they looked terrible last week against HOU, every week is different. This week, they're likely facing a rookie QB who looked promising but isn't quite the player that C.J. Stroud is. This defense has generated a sack and forced a turnover in three straight games and is in the top ten in forcing turnovers. They're also a top-12 run defense, and while they lack the upside of a top-five play, I believe they are a solid top-15 option due to the matchup. This is a last-resort option in case you missed the above options.

4 JACKSONVILLE JAGUARS VS SF

I was going to swing for the fences with CAR, but I decided to do that with a good defense. While the matchup isn't great, this SF offense is dealing with injuries, and this defense is within the top five in rushing yards allowed per game and forcing turnovers. They forced multiple turnovers in four of the last five games while generating 11 sacks in that span. Because the strength of the SF offense matches well with this defense, I'm willing to stream them as a top-12 option with a top-ten upside, but knowing this could backfire.
