

WEEK 15 DEF STREAMERS

LOOKING FOR TEAMS ON LESS THAN 60% OF ROSTERS IN YAHOO

1

GREEN BAY PACKERS @ SEA

Despite being a top-ten defense, they had a rough game last week against a good DET offense. However, besides that, this defense has been playing well, generating multiple sacks and holding their opponent to under 20 points in three straight games. Facing a capable but inconsistent SEA offense that is dealing with injuries, I would anticipate this defense to continue to put up a top-12 performance and be one of my preferred streaming options.

HOUSTON TEXANS VS MIA

I know this MIA offense has looked much better with Tua healthy, but this defense has been playing well. They have forced multiple turnovers in three of their last four games and generated at least five sacks in two of their previous three. Despite the not-great matchup, this defense is currently in the top ten in passing yards allowed and league average in points allowed, so while this isn't my first option, this is a decent consolation prize.

3

LOS ANGELES CHARGERS VS TB

Despite the somewhat disappointing performance, this defense continues to be a top-12 option. They have held their opponents to under 20 points and generated a sack in back-to-back games. However, they have yet to force a turnover in four of their last five games, and that lack of upside has hurt their performance in recent weeks. Facing a capable TB offense that has scored more than 24 points in three consecutive games, it's not a great matchup, and I would consider this a last-resort streaming option.

NEW YORK JETS @ JAX

Despite the rough performance last week, this upcoming matchup against a bad JAX offense that has failed to surpass 14 points in three of their last four games. Struggling with consistency, they have generated multiple sacks over the past five games and forced a turnover in three of those games. However, they also gave up at least 28 points in three of their last five games, making this a real high-risk, high-reward streaming option that I would consider a last resort.
