

DEF STREAM WEEK 6

10/12/2020

These four DEF are streamable options and currently are rostered in less than 60% of Yahoo leagues.

MIAMI DOLPHINS VS NYJ

They're facing the Jets this week. Need I say more? Even with the return of Leveon Bell, this offense is not even remotely intimidating. For the rest of the season, start defenses against the Jets.

WASHINGTON FOOTBALL TEAM VS NYG

The Giants are becoming another offense to target. I mean, last week, they faced against Dallas and gave up a fumble that ended up being a defensive TD. I'm aware divisional matchups are tricky, but I can't see how this defensive line won't impact this game, forcing turnovers or shutting that offense down.

CAROLINA PANTHERS VS CHI

Despite many people anticipating this team to struggle, they have quietly won three games in a row. This defense has improved recently with decent performances against good offenses (Atlanta & Arizona). Going against Nick Foles doesn't scare me away and I would target them if I needed a last-minute alternative on Saturday.

GREEN BAY PACKERS @ TB

Some weeks, there are not many streaming options to choose from, and that's why this team is here. I wouldn't expect a double-digit performance, but it wouldn't surprise me to see 5-7 points with injuries to the entire offense. With that pass rush facing an aging Brady who will be a sitting duck if they can make him hold onto the ball similar to Chicago last week.
