

WEEK 5 DEF STREAMERS

LOOKING FOR TEAMS ON LESS THAN 70% OF ROSTERS IN YAHOO

1

CINCINNATI BENGALS @ MIA

It was tough deciding between this defense and trusting LV to bounce back against NE. I chose the better matchup and targeted the MIA offense, which ranks in the bottom three in total yards and points per game. They've generated four sacks in three of the last four games and are currently a top-10 fantasy defense. While they have given up over 20 points three times, MIA has failed to score 14 points once. With top-ten upside, I would consider them my top streaming option.

JACKSONVILLE JAGUARS VS PHI

Believe it or not, they are currently a top-3 fantasy defense, generating multiple sacks, forcing multiple turnovers, and holding opponents to under 20 points in three of the last four games. With Devonta Smith and Saquon Barkley potentially missing this game, I would consider this one of the best matchups against a PHI offense that scored less than 21 points in back-to-back games. With HOU the following week, this could be a two-week streaming option and potentially a weekly starter after the bye week.

CHICAGO BEARS @ GB

If you take out Week 1, this defense has been impressive, generating multiple sacks and holding opponents to under 14 points in each game. They are also top-five in the league in total yards and points allowed. While they faced some flawed offenses (MIN, PHI, NYJ), they will face an injured GB offense that has failed to score 20 points in back-to-back games and ranks in the bottom five in points scored. Despite being a divisional matchup, I would consider this one of my preferred streaming options.

4

CLEVELAND BROWNS @ NYJ

Over the last three games, they have played relatively well, generating at least three sacks and forcing a turnover in each game while holding opponents to under 20 points in two games. Facing an NYJ offense that's in the bottom-ten in total yards and points scored per game and failed to score 14 points last week, I anticipate a low-scoring game, which gives them top-10 upside. While I wouldn't consider them my first option, this defense is not a bad consolation prize as a streaming option.
